

The Ocean

We went to the Anzio beach, spent an evening wading along the beach in the water, and seeing a beautiful horizon sunset.

We took a train from Rome to the beach town of Anzio. Many families were playing beach volleyball, and just basking on the beach, where it was far cooler than mainland Rome.

Public Parks - Villas

We walked through many public gardens and parks in Rome. Some have these beautiful buildings and architectures within them. We visited a stained glass art gallery in one of the parks.
