

Drinking Water Fountains

Abundant constantly flowing water fountains for drinking water are scattered around the city. You can hear them from across the street, and they have a distinctive lean.

Perhaps it is wasteful to have them running non-stop. But, in the drastic heat, having these were very important to keep us hydrated as we walked around the city.

Water Fountains

Rome has many beautiful, intricate water fountains in various plazas. This massive one is the Trevi fountain. Even at 1am, the fountain was bustling with visitors. People taking pictures, enjoying the slight cooling mist, and enjoying gelato!
